

2nd CALL FOR PAPERS

International Conference on "Information Technology and Universities in Asia" (ITUA 2002)

(Please note that the deadline of submission has now been extended to February 15, 2002.)

April 3-5, 2002

Building One, Faculty of Arts, Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok, Thailand

The Faculty Senate, Chulalongkorn University in Bangkok, Thailand, in cooperation with the Pan-Pacific Association for Applied Linguistics, is organizing an international conference on "Information Technology and Universities in Asia" from April 3 to 5, 2002, at the campus of the university. The conference will be a place where teachers, researchers, administrators and others who are interested in how best to use information and communication technologies (ICTs) in realizing the missions of the university get together to share ideas, opinions and research findings. Of special interest are papers and presentations that explore the cultural aspects of using ICTs in universities, especially Asian cultures. However, though the focus of the conference is on the use of ICTs in Asian universities, participants from all corners of the world are very welcome to share their ideas and expertise.

Paper proposals are called in three broad areas (these are meant only to be suggestive, and are not exclusive):

1. Distance Learning
2. ICTs in Classroom Teaching and/or Research
3. ICTs in University Administration

Please send your abstracts (preferably by e-mail, max. 500 words) to:
